PROJECT UPDATE / NOVEMBER 2026

Updates since the original report

The storefront now includes a persistent Kazakh, Russian and English language selector, dedicated pages for each catalogue game, and direct contact links for the project team. This addendum documents the changes made after the original 14-page report.

Language selector

The header selector shows KZ, RU or EN. The selected language is remembered between pages, and the new game-detail content is available in all three languages.

KZ | RU | EN

Game card action

Every game card links to its own detail page. The link opens in a new browser tab and keeps the original store page ready to return to.

More details

Each page presents the game cover, a localized overview, genre, catalogue price and gameplay highlights. A gallery sits below the details and uses local screenshots where the project has them; when no screenshot is available, the gallery clearly shows the game cover instead.

Counter-Strike 2

Cyberpunk 2077

Elden Ring

Local gameplay screenshots included in the detail-page galleries.

The JavaScript files changed for this update pass syntax checks, the patch passes the whitespace check, and the referenced local gallery images are present. The 57/57 browser-check result on page 14 belongs to the original report and was not repeated for this addendum.
